Goals include:

- Offer emotional and practical support to enhance parenting skills and family dynamics.
- Foster a meaningful relationship between mentors and parents, based on compatibility and mutual interest.

Mentors are encouraged to meet with their Parent Pal two to three times per month, providing consistent support and advice. While matches can last as long as both parties are interested, it is hoped that mentors will engage with their Parent Pal for one year. Parents will learn new strategies for parenting and family management. By gaining support, parents can feel more confident in their abilities to provide a nurturing environment.

The program contributes to creating a safer and healthier atmosphere for minor children. This mentoring initiative not only enriches the lives of families but also strengthens the community as a whole. By investing in parents, we are investing in the future of our children and the well-being of our society. Contact Jenna Durkee at 920-621-6620 or jenna.durkee@browncountywi.gov.
